As URSU’s current Vice-President Student Affairs, I have been given the opportunity to meet many students and see and understand an assortment of perspectives on problems, like tuition, that affect us on a daily basis. As a student representative at the University of Regina, my eyes have been opened to the plight of students, including their dealing with a scarcity of food, fear of paying for tuition fees, mental health struggles, or even the inability to afford textbooks. Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, our accomplishments have not been diminished. An invisible virus has shown us the many problems and holes need to be filled, and students deserve the care and support they need. Notably, we have expanded services such as the URSU Cares Pantry which have become sustainable support for us. With the knowledge and experience in student leadership, I want to be your VPSA to make more sustainable changes, including:

More Funding for Students
- $20,000 more funding for student run projects
- Start a new community project grant program
- Increase the budget for Unpaid Work Experience Subsidy

Secure food for Students
- More resources to the URSU Cares Pantry
- New food security program (new community fridge)
- Work on URSU garden project

New Mental Health Program
- FREE mental health support
- Start peer mentorship program
- New mental health resources

Make URSU accountable
- Make information easily accessible on the URSU website for URSU members
- Monthly information and leadership newsletter
- Creating an honorarium for student members who join our board meetings for 3 consecutive times.
